...and found ACA.

First, we love the focus on the whole child. Whatever the need, ACA has provided teachers and therapists that work together to meet the needs of each individual child. When we have parent teacher meetings, the whole team is involved so that we focus on all of Christopher's needs. He has made tremendous progress in the two years he's been at ACA.

ACA focuses on the leader in each of us as well as being a good citizen. The Pledge of Allegiance and the flag are part of each day, and they frequently have members of the community come in to educate the children on the various services provided in the community like fire, safety, waste management, recycling, and many more.

We love that the classroom extends outside and to nature-based education. When the weather permits, they hold class outside. Frequent educational field trips allow the students to learn by doing.

ACA has the flexibility to place children where they are in their learning. Christopher was fortunate to have first grade lessons, while in a kindergarten class for social interactions and learning. The relationships between older students that mentor and help the littles are amazing.

We also love that ACA is a faith-based organization that has Bible time and reinforces principles and values that we believe in. We love the interaction between parents and teachers. We get frequent pictures, progress, notes, and have developed wonderful relationships with the entire team at ACA.

Parents are encouraged to participate and always welcome. Whole health is reinforced through nutritious meals served at school and exposure to new foods to try. I could go on but suffice it to say that ACA is the best choice for our family. If you aren't getting what you need from your current education system, please consider ACA. Learning is fun and Christopher looks forward to school each and every day.
